

Sue-Belinda Meehan

There are so many Consultants and providers of inservice nowadays. What makes me better able to work with you to achieve your goals? Well, I have taught happily and successfully for 33 years. I began my career as a primary teacher, became a Principal, then a curriculum and syllabus writer in the English Language Arts. During this time, I also worked closely with teachers and their schools. I then moved on and lectured at Griffith University in Teacher Education for 15 years and ultimately opened my own company to market the resources I have developed over 33 years and to do what I love best – working with teachers to help them achieve their goals.

I look forward to working with you soon!
